

Everywhere outside, I wanted to, I could play the app

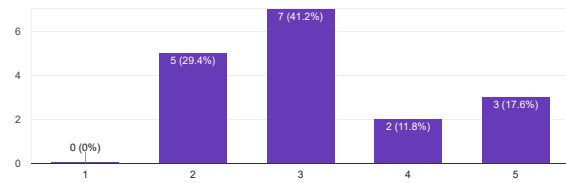

The capturing process helped me to form a relation to the car

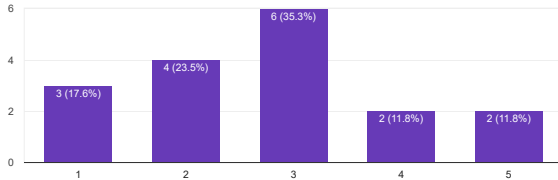

I often wanted to play, but there were no matching cars to capture

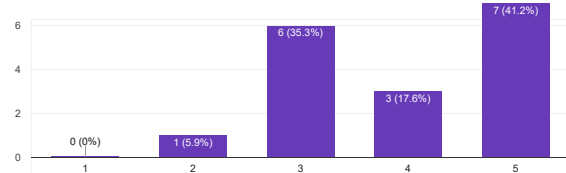

The virtual car overlay worked well

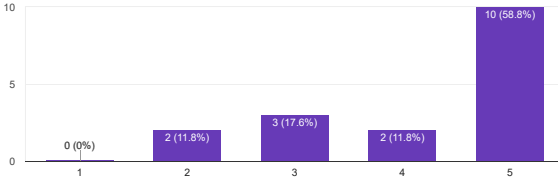

It was easy to integrate the app into my everyday life

The virtual car overlay was cool but distracted from the actual gameplay

I hardly use my mobile phone, hence I didn't think of playing RacecAR GO regularly

The game entertained me so much, that I did not only play to do Johannes a favor
